BAD WEATHER DELAYING JAPS? LONDON, May 12.-The withdrawal of the Japanese from the railway on the Liaotung peninsula is not yet explained. There is nothing to throw any light on the subject from any Japanese source.

The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Daily Moil believes a statement that has been issued officially that bad weather is checking the disembarkation of the entire Japanese army and has compelled that comparatively small force which landed to fall back. It is also suggested that the weather has hindered Gen. Kuroki's advance, regarding which nothing is reported except what is contained in Gen. Kouro-

A despatch to the Standard from Tientsin quotes an employee of the Chinese Eastern Railway, who has arrived from Port Arthur, as saying that when he left on May 5 the siens were guarding the line as far as Pulandien. At this place the Japanese stopped the train on which the employee was travelling and ordered everybody to leave it. All the bridges had been destroyed between Pulandien and Wafantien, a distance of twenty miles. The passengers walked to Wafantien, where they boarded another train for Tachichao. Two hundred wounded Russians from Port Arthur, who were going to Tachichao, were allowed to proceed. The correspondent adds that no importance can be attached to the reported restoration of communication with Port

EXPECTS ATTACK BY BUSSIANS.

The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Telegraph says that all interest is centred in the Liaotung Peninsula, upon the west coast of which the Japanese are about to operate. Two divisions are presumed to have landed there already. Gen. Oku's army will shortly number 30,000 men, with 72 guns, while 30,000 more, with 54 guns, are ready to land at Thornton Bay, but will not be fully available before May 13. Hence it is believed that Gen. Kouropatkin will attack Gen. Oku before then and hinder the investment of Port Arthur.

It is reported from Shanhaikwan that the Russians still linger in the neighborhood of Newchwang and that some are even returning to the town.

The Standard's Tientsin correspondent asserts that Newchwang has not been evacuated by the Russians. He says they are merely shifting their guns, changing the disposition of their forces and removing certain belongings to Liaoyang.

All the reports of engagements on land or sea have the slenderest, if any, founda-

Special Cable Despatches to THE SUN. Tokio, May 11.-Admiral Togo, whose fleet is off Port Arthur, reports that many explosions have been heard in the direction of the town since last Friday. It is believed here that the Russans, despairing of being able to defend the fortress, are destroying their ships preparatory to the evacuation of the place.

Sr. PETERSBURG, May 11.-The official despatches received here to-day make no reference to the explosions reported to have been heard at Port Arthur. Naval and military officers scout the idea that the Russians are blowing up their warships or war material there. They say that that would be the very last act of any besieged garrison placed in circumstances such as prevail at Port Arthur.

In official circles the explosions are at tributed to the blowing up of the wrecks of the Japanese steamers at the mouth of the harbor in order to clear the channel. Another version is that the Russians are demolishing certain buildings that interfore with the defence works.

JAPAN PLANS ANOTHER LOAN. This one to Be Taken by Wealthy Subscribers at Home.

Special Cable Despatch to THE St Tokio, May 11.- The press of Tokio generally expresses satisfaction with the Japanese foreign loan, in view of the repeated failures of the Russian Government to effect one on the Continent. Some of the newspapers comment unfavorably on the high rate as compared with the rate at which Turkey and South American States have been able to effect loans.

Porriem Loan in Demand Here.

Announcement was made yesterday that although the subscription list for £5,000,000 of the Imperial Japanese 6 per cent. loan does not open until this morning, many bids had been received and the indications were that the loan would be three times oversubscribed. The large life insurance companies are applicants for heavy amounts and will probably receive allotments of from one to five million dollars.

The new Japanese bonds were again dealt in on the curb yesterday, the sales aggregating £24,000, at prices ranging from 95 to 95%, closing at 95%. It is understood that small investors will be well treated in the subscription, since a wide distribution of the loan is desired.

Although the new Russian loan will not be offered here it was announced yesterday that the National City Bank had taken a part of it, said to be about $5,000,000. The National City Bank is the fiscal agent for the Russian Government in this country. POREIGN LOAN IN DEMAND HERE.

UNREST AT HARBIN,

Bussians Angered by the Attitude of the Chinese.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.

LONDON, May 11.—Mail advices state that the condition of affairs at Harbin is not reassuring. The Chinese, hitherto peaceful, are displaying great insolence and are saved from punishment at the hands of exasperated Russians only by the Russian authorities. The chief cause of complaint is the raising of the price of provisions.

The Russians are convinced that the Chinese are their secret enemies and that they are ready to rise in insurrection with little urging.

THEY'RE ALL THIEVES IN WALL STREET EXCEPT HIM,

And His 50th Indictment is Coming Or Just as His "Fuel" Corner Is Pinching the Pockets of the Just and the Unjust-Only Perjury This Time.

Alfred R. Goslin, the hero of the B. R. T. raid of 1900, of the New York Electric Brake and Coupler deal, and just now of the "Fuel" corner that smashed the brokerage firm of Floyd, Crawford & Co. and has pinched the pockets of several curb brokers, heard yesterday that Assistant United States District Attorney Houghton had a charge of perjury against him based on his testimony in the bankruptcy proceedings against the American Finance and Mortgage Company, and he lost no time, but surrendered himself to Commissioner Shields

The Commissioner had scarcely finished writing the warrant out when Goslin saun-tered in with his counsel, W. J. Lippman and F. House. Commissioner Shields held him in $2,500 ball for examination on May 27 at 2 o'clock. Goslin had no trouble in producing $2,500. The complaint sworn out by Mr. Houghton, and based on a number of affidavits sets forth on Aug. 27 last a petition in bankruptcy was filed against Fernando Baltes and others, trading as the American Finance and Mortgage Company. On Sept. 21 Goslin, through his attorneys, Lippman & Ruck, filed an answer denying the allegations in the petition. In the proceedings Goslin swore that he had never passed as "William H. Spencer," the nominal head of the American Finance and Mortgage Company swindle, whereas other witnesses swore that he did and that he was the only William H. Spencer in the concern. Charles Milton Dunn, manager of the Goslin offices, swore that Goslin telephoned to the Eastern Trust Company and said, "This is William H. Spencer," and that he would send over the certificates of 100 shares of Chicago. Milwaukee and St. Paul stock for a loan. Thereupon Goslin hung up the receiver and signed the name of William H. Spencer on one of the Eastern Trust Company's slips and filled in the figures $12,500. All the deposit slips signed William H. Spencer are in Goslin's handwriting. Also, he called himself Spencer in the presence of Annie Meagher, his stenographer.

On April 1, 1903, Goslin said to Dunn Charley, I want you to have two rubber stamps made." Then he drafted on a piece of paper a sketch of two stamps as follows One, "Pay to the order William H. Spencer American Finance and Mortgage Company, and the other, "Pay to the order of any bank banker or trust company, William H. Spencer." "I want these stamps to look different," Goslin said. Dunn had them made by the New York Stencil Company and saw him use them afterward. Dunn also heard him deny these facts under oath efore Referee J. J. Townsend.

Frederick W. Jobelman, a clerk of Goelin, and Adolf Bernstock, a tailor, also swore that Goslin was known to them as Spencer. When asked by a Sun reporter whether he statement made by A. S. Floyd of Floyd, Crawford & Co., that his "Fuel" corner wrecked them, was true, Goslin made light of it. "Their liabilities are about $500,000," he said. "Only $30,000 of that, according to their statement, is in Light, Fuel and Power stock, in which they say I am interested. Where is the other $470,000?"

"You understand Wall Street pretty well, don't you?" remarked the reporter, well, don't you?" remarked the reporter, by way of making conversation.
"I certainly do," replied Goslin, and in Parisian French he waxed wroth. "I could write a book about it. They are all thieves in Wall Street. But the man on top is called a financier; the man on the bottom rung of the ladder is called by his right name."

Goslin himself has been indicted fortynine times. He has done time for forgery in Europe and more than two years at El-mira. In 1902 he served six months in the penitentiary for starting false reports about Brooklyn Rapid Transit, and thus bearing the stock.

"The lawyers get all my money," he said yesterday, smiling good naturedly at his present bunch.

$10,000 REWARD OFFERED

For Information as to the Whereabouts of Henry B. Kingsley.

BURLINGTON, Vt., May 11 .- An announcenent was made to-day by L. G. Kingsley that H. H. Baxter of New York had offered a reward of $10,000 for information leading to the discovery of Henry B. Kingsley of Rutland, Vt., who disappeared on Nov. 14 last while on a visit to Mr. Baxter The missing man is a cousin of Mr. Baxter, and his disappearance has been a mystery which his disappearance has been a mystery which up to the present time has been unsolved. NYACK, May 11.—Thomas Abrams, representing Hugh H. Baxter of New Rochelle, came to Nyack this afternoon to investigate the Hook Mountain mystery, in the belief that the dead man might be Henry Baxter Kingsley, a wealthy resident of Rutland, Vt., who disappeared last November. Mr. Abrams consulted with Coroner Bittig and obtained a complete description of the dead obtained a complete description of the dead man, but it did not correspond with Mr. Kingsley in any respect. Mr. Kingsley was 5 feet 3½ inches in height, while the dead man was 5 feet 6 inches. There is a new theory here to-day in regard to the dead man. Late last fall several men were playing cards in a place at Rockland Lake one night. A row ensued, and one of the men was fatally stabbed. The assailant fied and never was found. It is probable that the man took to the woods, and the most likely course for him to be assaidant field and never was found. and the most likely course for him to have taken was over the Hook Mountain. It is thought that he crossed the mountain, and in the darkness of the night slipped off the edge of the cliff to his death.

PERMIT FOR NEWEST TUNNEL

ONE UNDER THE RIVER AT CORT. LANDT ST. CAN NOW BE BUILT.

New Factor in the Wonderful System of Coderground Travel Developing in New York-Connects With Two Other Subways at a Skyscraping Terminus

The State Board of Railroad Commis sioners granted a certificate of public necessity, yesterday to the Hudson and Manhattan Railroad Company to build two single-track tunnels under the Hudson River from Church street between Cortlandt and Fulton streets to Exchange place, Jersey City. William G. McAdoo, president of the company, is also president of the New York and Jersey Railroad Company, which has completed the old Hudson River tunnel from Jersey City to Morton street and is building another there.

Mr. McAdoo said yesterday that the tunnels could probably be begun within the year and it was hoped to finish them in three years. The Rapid Transit Commission gave the company a permit for construction some time ago and the Sinking Fund Commission and the Dock Commissioner indorse Only the consent of the abutting property owners near the Church street terminus is now needed.

The company has bought the western part the two blocks bounded by Church, Fulton, Cortlandt streets and Broadway for a terminus. A large modern office building, the Havemeyer, occupies the western half of the more southerly of the two

The two tunnels will form a continuous loop. The south tunnel will come from the river under Pier 13 and Cortlandt street to the loop station at Church street, running around into the north tunnel under Fulton street and Pier 14. From the terminus there will be a footway under Dey street to Broadway and the subway station there and up to Broadway and John street, the passageway being under the subway level.

Mr. McAdoo gave a lecture at the Princeton Club a short time ago. He then said that the proposed terminus would be the most wonderful building in the world in regard to outside transit facilities. From the basement a passenger could step into the cars of the Jersey City tunnel running under Church street. By walking half a block along the underground passage-way he could ride up town or to Brooklyn by the Broadway underground. The first floor would be on a level with the surface cars and the platform of the Cortlandt street station of the Sixth avenue elevated would be connected with the second story.

The terminus will probably consist of two buildings, eighteen or twenty stories high, one over each block, connected by overhead bridges as well as by the tunnel underground. The cars to be used in the new tunnels will be about the same as those for the subway. At Jersey City connection will be made with surface cars and probably with the Pennsylvania Railroad. The tunnels Davies, engineers for the North River tunnel, just completed, and also for the Pennsylvania tunnel, will have charge of the work. Mr. McAdoo told the Railroad Commis sioners that the proposed tunnels would relieve the congested ferry traffic downtown. He pointed out that at present practically the whole of the downtown traffic from New Jersey is delivered between Liberty and Chambers streets, a distance of less than half a mile The Hudson and Manhattan Railroad Company was incorporated in this State on March 21, last year, and has a capital of $3,000,000. The directors, besides Mr. McAdoo, are Walter G. Oakman, John S. Williams, E. H. Gary, Frederick B. Jennings, A. N. Brady, H. B. Hollins, John S.

PLOYDANDCRAWFORD TURN UP

PROPOSE TO OFFER CREDITORS PART CASH AND PART NOTES.

Expect to Meet Some of the Largest Creditors Te-day, and Reckon Their Liabilities at $150,000, Not $500,000 -Hankruptey Proceedings by Creditor

Robert C. Morris has been appointed eceiver of Floyd, Crawford & Co., brokers, at 25 Broad street, in a petition in bankruptcy filed by three creditors. Meyer ireenberg, counsel for the petitioners, said yesterday that private detectives were looking for the partners. He said he represented almost a hundred creditors in this city, whose claims were about $200,000, and he estimated the liabilities at $500,000.

Floyd and Crawford turned up late last night at the Hotel Algonquin in West Forty-fourth street, where Crawford has apartments. Floyd admitted that he had been keeping out of the way, but Crawford said that he had just got in from Chicago. where he had been trying to straighten out the affairs of the firm. Both said that they hadn't suspected that private detectives were looking for them.

They have come out in the open, they aid, to meet their creditors and to try and compromise matters without going through bankruptcy proceedings.
"Some of the larger creditors," said

Floyd, "are very friendly to our interests and anxious to see us continue our business, expressing a willingness to accept 10 per cent. in cash in thirty days and our notes for the rest. Our liabilities amount to about $150,000. The statement made to-day that one of the lawyers for the creditors represents claims aggregating more than $200,000 must be a mistake. we have invested in our wire system offices fixtures that cost us, approximately, with two Board of Trade seats and two seats on the Consolidated Exchange, $100,000.

TRACT SOCIETY TO LOSE HOWARD

The General Says He Has Other Work -Justice Brewer May Succeed Him. Members of the American Tract Society heard with regret yesterday afternoon that Major-Gen. Oliver Otis Howard, who has been president of the organization for several years, is to resign. The announce. ment was made by Gen. Howard himself. at the seventy-ninth annual meeting of the society, in the chapel of the Madison Square

Presbyterian Church. Preparation of his memoirs and educaional work in which he is engaged among the mountaineers of Kentucky and Tennessee, take so much of his time, Gen. Howard told the meeting, that he does not feet that he can act as president any longer He nominated as his successor United States Supreme Court Justice David J. Brewer. Protest against the resignation was at once made in several speeches. The Rev. Dr.

David J. Burrell declared: "It's time enough to accept your resignation when we read your obituary. "Don't think I am playing the baby act," said Gen. Howard. "I'm just as physically said Gen. Howard. "I'm just as physically able now as I was when I was 40, but I feel that that strength should be put into other work. I am willing to serve the society in every way and place but its presidency."

The resignation was finally referred to the executive committee, which is to argue with Gen. Howard. If it fails to persuade him to withdraw his resignation, the committee is empowered to select his successor, who will probably be Justice Brewer, to whom one speaker referred as the "most real representative Christian man of our time."
